ABOUT THIS — AND —
ABOUT THAT

By OLIVER GEDEIST

Dictators

Dictators are, in our United States opinion, bad things. And there are a great many reasons at hand for thinking that way. No use in naming them; we know them very well, and talk about them in that off-hand way in which we treat many serious questions. The fact is, we talk about them so much, but from OUR viewpoint, that we overlook a good many facts, one of which is that we heartily approve, in most instances, if the dictator happens to be carrying out our ideas.

Others

Of course, when we think of dictators, and talk about them, we have in mind the Hitler kind, the Stalin kind, the Mussolini kind. We seldom think of our city bosses or state bosses or national bosses as dictators. If one of these is on our side politically, he is a LEADER, a respected person, not a dictator. This in the face of the fact that the boss in question may hold nearly the power of life and death over his "subjects." Of course, if he happens to belong to the other party, the other organization, or religion, he becomes a dictator deserving of our hatred.

Some Good

An ardent admirer and follower of the late FDR boils at the thought that anyone would consider the great idol a dictator. On the other hand, nearly everyone not a Roosevelt idolator will volubly "prove"—at least to his own satisfaction—that the late President from Hyde Park was a dictator without conscience. Can both be right? Was he all bad? Was he all good? That's the point. In many things I believe he was a dictator. In other things I believe he was not a dictator. Among the things in which he was not a dictator, I believe, was the going and coming of his wife. In legislation, mostly he could be called a dictator. In his dictating he achieved some good. He also achieved some bad. But enough of FDR; in this instance he is used merely to develop a point.

Russia

Hardly anyone will deny that Mr. Stalin is a dictator—that is, outside of the dictator himself. To Mr. Stalin, he is a great democrat with a lower case d (not meaning damned). Let's take a look at Mr. Stalin and at Italy. Which is better off, Russia or Italy? Analyze the situation, and what do you find? In Russia, you will find more people working and less actual poverty than in Italy, where poverty and ignorance have prevailed for a century or more. The same kind of poverty and ignorance prevailed in Russia when the Bolsheviks came to power. True, Russians are not "free" as we know it. However, no one has produced evidence that they are unhappy. There is no revolution in Russia. The revolutionists die quickly. In Italy, they live longer, but achieve little or nothing by their living. Each side has something to say for its side.

Better Order

Under dictatorship there is more order, less disorder. Of course, the intellectual life shrivels, "freedom" as we know it is destroyed. But since we know little and care little what our politicians do, and since we follow shibboleths mostly, can we call the kettle black?

ROBERT SCHULTZ OF TINLEY PARK
DIES FROM INJURIES IN ACCIDENT*Peter J. Becker
Held on Charge

Robert Schultz, 24, of Tinley Park died Wednesday of last week in Ingalls Memorial hospital, Harvey. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schultz of Tinley.

Death was attributed to injuries received when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Peter Becker of Chicago on April 10. The accident occurred at Oak Park avenue and 175th street.

In the accident, the motorcycle was reportedly hurled 75 feet and young Schultz was thrown 20 feet beyond that. He was employed by Bechtel Trucking company of Tinley Park.

When taken to the hospital it was reported that the injured man had one leg broken in several places along with injuries to his left hand.

Driver of the automobile was Peter Becker, also of Tinley Park. He was later held in $5,000 bail for appearance in the court of Justice Jakes, Markham where he was held on a reckless driving charge preferred by Henry M. Bechtel of Tinley.

Coroner's inquest has been set for May 6.

Survivors are the parents, with whom the young man lived on the family farm, one sister, Gladys and three brothers, Howard, Melvin and Richard.

Funeral services were held last Saturday at Tinley Park Methodist church, with interment in Tinley Park Memorial cemetery.

Special Honors

William Richard Needham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Berle Needham, Mokena sophomore in the college of liberal arts and sciences, is among students to be recognized for outstanding scholarship at the Navy Pier branch of the University of Illinois in an "honors day" program Friday, May 7.

START NOW

Start now to save dimes for Poppy Day, so when the girls solicit you can drop in a real contribution instead of the conventional dime. The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars do worthy thing in promoting Poppy Day. Giving is a small recompense for those who gave so much. Poppy Day is only a month away.

They SaidGod is Nigh

By ELIZABETH B. BUSH

Last week
In perfect formation
There up in the sky
Were wild geese flying,
And yesterday
Came the lilting song
From a tree top high
Of a robin red breast.
This morning
From under the snow
And close by my feet
A crocus greeted me.
They said,
As plain as words,
"God still is nigh
In this world gone mad."

Hollstein-Steinborn

Miss Marion Hollstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Hollstein of Tinley Park, was united in marriage to Wilmer Steinborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinborn of Frankfort, Saturday, April 17, at 3:30 o'clock in the parsonage of the Tinley Park Methodist church. The Rev. J. Frank Anderson officiated.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Harold Andres, and the groom was attended by his brother, Elmer Steinborn.

The bride was attractively attired in a white gabardine suit with pink accessories and an orchid corsage. The matron of honor wore a gray suit with pink accessories and also an orchid corsage.

A wedding dinner was served to 40 guests at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Steinborn left on a two weeks trip to Denver, Colo.

Miss Betty Hamilton
To Marry Mr. Schrank

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hamilton of New Lenox have announced the engagement of their daughter Betty, to Alfred Schrank, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schrank of Mokena. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Hamilton formerly was employed at the Star Peerless Wallpaper mills, but is now working in her father's grocery store.

Mr. Schrank served four years with the armed forces in the South Pacific, receiving his honorable discharge in October, 1945. He is now employed in Chicago.

MRS. BRECK VISITS

Mrs. Henry Breck of South Fork, Mo. former Tinley Park resident, where she was interested in Woman's club work, is visiting with friends in this locality. Last Wednesday she spent with the Milo Danly family in Mokena, and stopped in at the News-Bulletin office and visited with Mrs. Semmler and family. This week she is spending with the Theodore Coughlin family in Oak Lawn. Mrs. Breck says she enjoys her new home in Missouri very much.

MRS. SEMMLER NAMED AID IN CANCER DRIVE

Mrs. Margaret Semmler, publisher, has been named publicity chairman for the 1948 Mokena cancer campaign fund drive. Everett Cooper, village president, is chairman of the Mokena campaign.

The fund campaign had been scheduled for the month of April but because of organizational details the campaign was late in starting and the drive will continue through the month of May.

As a part of the cancer fund program, Mutual Broadcasting company, through its "Queen for a Day" program, makes possible the winning of substantial prizes. Winner of prizes will be taken to the nearest MBS station for personal interviews on the air. There is to be no house-to-house solicitations, it was stated. Containers have been placed in business places in Mokena for the reception of contributions.

MUSEUM OF SCIENCE HOURS

Beginning Monday, April 26, and continuing through the summer months, the Museum of Science and Industry, 57th and Lake Michigan, will remain open on week-days from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Extension of the closing hour from 4 to 5:30 p. m. is done during the spring and summer months to enable visitors to take full advantage of the longer daylight hours. The Sunday closing hour will continue to be 7 p. m.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS' DATE

Mrs. Eleanor Krause will be hostess to the Royal Neighbors of America at her home in Mokena next Wednesday evening, May 5, at 8 o'clock.

Rinnman-Ruder

By DOLORES ANDERSON

Before an altar decorated with white carnations, golden bells, and pussy willow flanked by lighted tapers, Miss Dolores Ann Rinnman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rinnman of New Lenox, and Irwin A. Ruder, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Ruder of New Lenox, were married April 24 at a 4 o'clock ceremony in Trinity Lutheran church in New Lenox.

The bride was attired in a white embroidered silk marquisette gown, with an illusion neckline, tapered sleeves, and a long train. Her fingertip veil fell from a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses. She was given away by her father.

The bride's cousin, Miss Florence Kloucek of Chicago, was maid of honor. She was attired in a yellow taffeta gown and carried an arm bouquet of talisman roses entwined with yellow ribbons.

Miss Adonia Ruder, sister of the groom, and Miss Dolores Bruns, cousin of the groom were bridesmaids. Miss Ruder wore a pink taffeta gown and Miss Bruns was attired in aqua blue taffeta. Their bouquets were also of roses. Miss Ruder carried a pink bouquet entwined with pink ribbons and Miss Bruns deep red with American Beauty ribbon.

Little Barbara Anderson, flower girl, was dressed in nile green and carried a small bouquet of daisies, dropping petals as she walked down the aisle.

William Bruns, cousin of the groom, was the best man and Carl Meltner and Robert Paulson were the ushers.

During the ceremony, performed by Rev. Leonard Reinke, Miss Jean Rydberg sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Amos O. Bruns accompanied at the piano and played "Because" and the "Wedding March" from Lohengrin, preceding the ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at Louis Joliet hotel at 6 o'clock for the bridal party and immediate families.

A reception was held at 7:30 at Kern Terrace Community House. Bouquets of flowers and the three-tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells decorated the bride and groom's table.

The bride's mother wore a tulle crepe suit and black accessories with a white gardenia corsage, and the groom's mother wore a black summer crepe dress with black and white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Following a two-week wedding trip through the South, Mr. and Mrs. Ruder will live temporarily with the groom's parents until their home is ready.

Mrs. Ruder is employed at Hart Schaffner and Marx Clothing Co. in Joliet and Mr. Ruder is engaged in farming in Monee.

Wedding guests were present from Chicago, Joliet, New Lenox; Chicago Heights; Homewood; Steger, and Bloomington.

In Honor Society

Keith Rabinov, of Mokena is among 64 students elected to membership in the University of Illinois chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, National Scholastic Honorary Fraternity, according to information from the University.

The Facts Behind the Figure

"IDEAL" is proper description for figure of Juliet Hamerin of North Lake Village, Ill., according to officials of the Formfit Institute, research organization for corset retailers. Institute survey showed American women have four types of figures pictured above. Miss Hamerin's half-skirt was for effect in showing girdeliere at Formfit fashion show.

If you think your hips are spreading, girls, don't worry about it.

"Full hip" figures are more prevalent among American women than any other type, according to a study by the Formfit Institute, research organization for retailers of corsets.

The study showed that 42 per cent of the women in this country have full hip figures, which means that they "carry most of their weight below the waistline."

The remainder of women were classified in the following figure groups: ideal figure, 35 per cent; full figure, 15 per cent; and

MOKENA HOMECOMING DATE SET BY CIVIC ASSOCIATION: AUGUST

Making plans for a more extensive program, the Mokena Civic Association last week set the date for the 1948 Homecoming for August 20 to 22.

Committees are now making plans for the affair, it was stated. Officers of the association, following the meeting last week, stated that the Homecoming will be a combined affair for Mokena the Volunteer fire department, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Auxiliaries all participating to present a combined community front and present a show that will attract what is believed to be the biggest attendance since the beginning of the annual affair.

An early announcement of details is expected.

THREE MOKENA
HONOR SOCIETY

Three Mokena students at Joliet township high school have been inducted into the National Honor society. They are Joanne Martie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Martie, Doris Jean Yunker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yunker, and Gunter Thiel, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig R. Thiel, Sr.

Joanne is in her junior year, while Gunter and Doris are seniors.

Orland H. B. News

The regular monthly meeting of the Orland Home Bureau was held last Friday evening at the home of Mildred Andersen. The meeting was called to order by our chairman, Mildred Andersen. Minutes were read and approved. Eight members answered the roll call. Two guests were present. Membership report was given by Florence Sayers.

Mrs. Bowyer, our county membership chairman, was present and reported on membership drive. Mrs. Hobson, assistant home adviser, gave the major lesson on laws that affect the home.

Our next meeting will be held in the home of Emma Bernard May 21. Katherine Ihlenfeld and Emma Bernard will serve. The major project will be on room accessories and will be given by our home adviser, Mrs. Upham. Minor project, "desserts to fit the meal."

Lunch was served by Mrs. Graf. Emma Bernard, publicity chairman.

Hurt In Fall

While working on a private car at the 47th street yards of the Rock Island railroad, Monday morning, Henry Shevlin of Mokena sustained injury in a fall. He was removed to St. Luke's hospital, where it was found a vertebra was fractured. He is doing nicely and will be placed in a cast in a day or so.

Double Wedding

By DOLORES ANDERSON

The Rev. Robert Halliday of the Ottawa street Methodist church officiated Saturday afternoon, April 10 at 3 o'clock, at the double marriage of Miss Wilma White of Joliet, daughter of Mrs. Gilbert Elson of Lexington, and Clarence Warning, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Warning, Cedar road, New Lenox, and their attendants, Miss Betty Wheeler of Towanda, and Garold Bishop, Joliet. Each couple served as attendants for the other.

Willard Bishop sang "I Love You Truly" and "I Promise You." The organist was Miss Ardis Eger.

The altar of the church was decorated with mixed bouquets, ferns and lighted candles.

Miss White wore an aqua crepe street-length dress with aqua and rose accessories and a white gardenia corsage, while Miss Wheeler was dressed in rose crepe with rose and aqua accessories. Her corsage was of white roses. Their dresses and hats were fashioned identically, differing only in color.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony for approximately 75 relatives, and friends of the couples. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a double table.

bride and groom centered the bridal Mrs. Richard Payne of Lexington, sister of the new Mrs. Warning, and Mrs. Melvin Masters of Joliet, sister of Mr. Bishop did the serving.

Mrs. Elson, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Warning and Mrs. Bishop, mothers of the brides and grooms, all wore pink and white carnation corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Warning will live in Monongahela, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will live in Joliet.

The new Mrs. Warning previous to her marriage was employed at the Veteran administration office in Joliet and Mr. Warning is employed as purchasing agent for Sanderson and Porter Construction Co., Monongahela.

Mrs. Warning was honored at a dinner party recently given by the girls at the Joliet Arsenal in the Louis Joliet hotel and a shower given by relatives and friends in Lexington.

PUBLISHER MEETS AUTHOR TEAL AND REVIEWS HER NEW BOOK*by EVERETT MITCHELL

Farm Commentator, heard Monday through Saturday, 6:15-6:45 a. m. on WMAQ, Chicago, 670 on your dial.

HERE'S something that doesn't make very pleasant reading matter, but it concerns the housewife in town as well as on the farm. It ties in especially with the current food-saving campaign. Let's talk about pantry pests.

Keep your cupboard free of insects such as weevils, beetles and meal moths, and it will help the family pocketbook. There are five recommended steps which assure complete success in our personal war on these food-infesting pests. A good idea is to clean all kitchen shelves thoroughly first. Traces of spilled food lodge in cracks and corners of cupboards. This offers a free, uninterrupted meal for pests.

After the cupboards are cleaned carefully, a five percent DDT solution sprayed on all cupboard surfaces protects them for several months. Be sure to wait until the spray dries before restocking the shelves. Dry DDT won't harm food inside packages — but neither will it kill insects already in packages.

That's a cue for us to be sure we don't put contaminated food back on our cleaned and sprayed shelves. An occasional insect in flour, for example, may be picked out and the flour sifted through a fine sieve. Flour or other food should be heat sterilized and stored in a clean, tight container. Foods which are heavily infested however, may only be used to feed pets or chickens.

There is a way to save infested dry food products, making them entirely edible. Heat them in the oven at 140 degrees F. for half an hour. Small packages can be heated just as they are, sealed or open. Contents of large packages should be spread out on a baking pan so that heat can penetrate them more easily. Foods sterilized thus should be stored promptly in clean metal or glass containers with the tight-fitting cover. Lard buckets, coffee cans or glass jars make excellent containers.

With a gross area of 2,908,903 square feet the RCA building in New York City is the largest office building in the world.

The first opening of Indian lands to white settlement in what now comprises the state of Oklahoma occurred on April 22, 1889.

BOY INJURED
HITS BICYCLE

Ralph Stahl, Jr., is in bed with painful injuries. Ralph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stahl, Sr., living on Wolf road north of Maple road. He is 12 years' old.

Tuesday morning Ralph left the home to ride to school in Mokena. When he was only a few hundred feet from his home something happened to him, he said, and when he knew what was going on there was a truck, and the driver was taking him to Dr. Ernest C. McMahon in Mokena.

Ralph is in bed now with hurts. But with all the hurts, Ralph's greatest concern is about the bicycle—that is, about the bicycle that was. It is no more, he said. It was demolished.

The truck was reported as traveling south, toward Mokena, and a school bus was passing him headed for Orland when the accident occurred. The truck was owned, it was said, by Dreis & Krump Manufacturing Co., Mokena and Chicago.

One of Ralph's eyes was hurt, a long bandage is across one side of his face and head, his left wrist is bandaged, and he said he had considerable pain in one foot. It was not known whether there were internal injuries. His left side appeared to have caught the brunt of the trouble. Dr. McMahon says Ralph will be out pretty soon.

Ralph, while in pain, is worrying more about a bicycle to ride to school.

4-H CLUBS TO KEEP NATIONAL
SUNDAY ON 2D

Illinois 4-H girls and boys will observe Sunday, May 2, as national 4-H club Sunday.

Special emphasis will be placed that day on spiritual implications of the 1948 4-H theme, "Creating Better Homes Today for a More Responsible Citizenship Tomorrow." Emphasis also will be placed on the traditional spiritual significance of planting time.

4-H club Sunday is closely linked with rogation days. These days of worship were first set aside by St. Mamertus, bishop of Vienne, in 475 A. D. to ask God's blessing upon the fruits of the earth. Later they were observed throughout France and in 747 A. D. were established in England by church action.

The idea of a special period of prayer at planting time is of even more ancient origin, however. In the earliest days of Egypt, the ceremony of blessing the land and the seed at the time of planting was widely observed.

Recently I was invited to a party of the Midwestern Writers Conference in their club rooms in the Cordon Club at 410 S. Michigan avenue, Chicago, in honor of a new author, Marion Teal, whose book, "The Earth Is Ours," made its debut.

The book is a tale of how the Teals, living in New York City, and hearing no crickets chirp in Times Square, decided to go back to the old homestead (in Clinton, Ill.), and begin a new life: how the eroded farm is brought into fertile production, the old house with its non-fitting doors, slanting floors, six-layered wall-papered walls in hideous colors, into a charming livable home, all with their own labor. It is a rollicking adventure which makes anyone under 40 long for the wide-open spaces.

I enjoyed meeting both Mr. and Mrs. Teal, the publisher of the book, Robert Crowell, of New York; and many other authors and writers, among whom were Otto Reising, author of "The Quarell", E. Ralph Rundell, author of "The Colour of Blood", to be published in May and Alden Bland, author of "Behold a Cry."

It was interesting to know that Mrs. Teal entered the Writer's Conference's prize contest on "The Book I Should Like To Write" and won, honorable mention. Deciding that if her idea was good enough to win honorable mention, it was worth working on, and despite being a farmer's wife, with two boys, and no household help, she wrote 80,000 words that winter and submitted her manuscript to Thomas Y. Crowell Co. Robert Crowell at once came to Illinois and the book was signed up for publication. Hollywood called her on long distance, and sent an agent to see her. So it may be that some day we will see her story in the movies.

Hearing Tests

Approximately 17,349 pupils have been tested in the Will county hearing conservation project on April 17. Of this number 1,442 were referred for otological examination.

There have been 55 clinics held, at which time 920 children were seen. It is hoped that all 21,000 school children in Joliet and Will county can be tested before the end of the present school term.

John Hopkins, who lived 1795-1879, was a financier and philanthropist who gave property valued at 4 1/2 million dollars to the city of Baltimore for a free hospital.

Marriage Customs Of the Ages

In 3 Parts. Part 1

Marriage appears to have passed through at least three extensive stages of development. Each change contributed its share to modern marriage customs.

The first stage was marriage through force. When a primitive man stole a woman, he stole her, more often than not, because he wanted a helper—or more likely, some one to do his work for him. It is not certain that monogamy was practiced then.

Marriage through contract or purchase followed marriage by capture. The tribe probably felt it was a duty to avenge the woman stolen from them. They marched against the tribe which held the woman captive and that tribe to avoid a destructive raid, offered compensation. Out of this grew the practice of offering compensation beforehand—or buying the bride.

The next important stage in our modern concept is marriage through mutual love. This did not come until both marriage by capture and marriage through purchase had run their course. Traces of both these stages still linger in the custom of those who marry for love.

"Giving the bride away," in the modern marriage ceremony is a relic of the time when the bride was really sold. The bride's veil is a reminder of days when she was actually shrouded from head to foot. The "best man" suggests the strong-armed warrior who assisted the would-be bridegroom to carry off his bride. The honeymoon itself symbolizes the period during which the bridegroom was forced to hide with his prize until her kinsmen grew tired of searching for her.

The exact origin of the use of the wedding ring is not known. We know, however, that primitive man wore a cord with his own fingers and bound it around the waist of the woman he wanted, so that her spirit entered his body when this little ceremony was performed and she was bound to him forever. It may be tying the cord around the woman's waist was the origin of the wedding ring. Later, and in various places, women were bound around the wrists and ankles to indicate that she had been captured and was the property of one man—in the tribe.

From the records, Egyptians were the first to use wedding rings in marriage vows. In hieroglyphics a circle represents eternity. A circle then became a symbol of marriage ties, implying a marriage that will be binding throughout eternity.

Garments Shrink; What to Do About It

Shrinkage of materials is one of the problems that is plaguing scores of women these days. A dress or suit that fits perfectly when new is a half size or a size smaller after a trip to the laundry or dry cleaner.

Miss Helen Zwolanek, clothing specialist, University of Illinois college of agriculture, says that most materials should be shrunk before they are made into garments—even those that carry a preshrunk label. It is the only way to assure a perfect fit after the garment has been laundered or dry cleaned. The only materials that need not be shrunk are those that waterspot—rayon crepes silk shantung, rayon prints.

The London Shrink method is the most satisfactory one for shrinking wools. Dip a sheet into water, wring as dry as possible, and spread on a flat surface. Place the wool on the sheet, keeping it folded lengthwise, as it comes from the bolt. Roll material in sheet and let stand from five to six hours. Unroll on a flat surface and straighten the grain of the material. This is difficult to do until the material has absorbed some moisture. When the grain is straight, the threads will be at right angles to each other.

Reroll the wool in the sheet and let it stand for 18 to 20 hours. Unroll on a flat surface, keeping the grain of the material in the right position, and let dry—do not hang. When thoroughly dry, press over lightly, using an up-and-down motion only on the length of this material.

Shrinking cotton and other washable materials is not so complicated a process as shrinking wools. Soak the material in lukewarm water for about 20 minutes. Remove from water and press out as much moisture as possible, using the hands. Do not wring, as it tends to stretch the grain of the material. Place the material on a dry sheet spread on a flat surface. Be sure the grain is in correct position, then roll and let stand for five to six hours.

Unroll the material and spread on a flat surface to finish drying, keeping grain in correct position. When dry, smooth out wrinkles with a warm iron.

The total weight of paper currency manufactured by the United States in 1945 was 1,514 tons.

SCRIPTURE: Nehemiah 1-7. DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 122:1-9

Nehemiah Rebuilds Jerusalem

Lesson for May 2, 1948

BORN and reared in Persia, Nehemiah appears in the opening scene of his prophecy as cup bearer to King Artaxerxes in the royal palace at Shushan. He was a favorite at court, due, no doubt, to his personality and training, plus a keen desire to serve his people. He obtained a royal order from Artaxerxes, granting him passage to Jerusalem. It was a long and dangerous journey, but Nehemiah traveled not only with letters from the king, but assurance in his heart that he was on the Lord's mission. He was given authority to seek help from other nations. Just how much help he received from other nations is not definitely certified, but we do know that he achieved the high purpose which God had put in his heart. He governed the city wisely for a dozen years, and wrought many notable reforms. Read the first seven chapters of Nehemiah for the complete story. Read also Psalms 122:1-9.

WHEN FRIENDS WORK TOGETHER

UPON arrival in Jerusalem, Nehemiah made a tour of the city by night. He was shocked and amazed at the ruins. He called upon the people to come and help rebuild the walls. And they were impressed with the earnestness and sincerity and courage of his call. "So built we the wall; and all the wall was joined together unto the half thereof; for the people had a mind to work," Nehemiah 4:6.

There is work for everyone who is of a willing mind. There is work in the home. Boys and girls who pitch in and share in the everyday work of the home make glad the hearts of their parents, and at the same time they are learning how to care for their own homes when they grow up.

STRENGTH AND ENCOURAGEMENT

NEHEMIAH set the people together in families, with tools for work and weapons for defense against the enemy. And in this union of numbers there was both strength and courage. We need today to learn anew this lesson of working together. So often we witness evidence of people pulling against one another. We see it in the home and in the school and in the wider areas of life—in politics and in the clash between capital and labor.

THOSE WHO OPPOSED NEHEMIAH

OUR lesson describes not only the courage and wisdom of Nehemiah in getting the Jews to work and work together, but it tells us about those who opposed the rebuilding of Jerusalem. Sanballat was the governor of Samaria, and when he heard that Nehemiah was rebuilding Jerusalem, he put in to defeat him by many schemes of sabotage.

He began with ridicule. "What do these feeble Jews?" he scoffingly asked. Ridicule is always one of the weapons of those who would tear down and destroy. Young people will do well to guard themselves against the snare of cynicism. It is a dangerous thing. Sanballat and his cohorts, Tobiah, and certain Arabians and Ammonites and Ashdodites, conspired to hinder Nehemiah in many devious attacks; but the people worked and fought, in the name of the Lord.

WHAT MAKES A REAL LEADER?

THIS is the question which will inevitably arise as we study this lesson. How could one man inspire people to undertake the impossible? First, Nehemiah relied implicitly upon God's help. Second, he threw himself into the task, fearlessly and intelligently. Third, he possessed the quality of inspiring faith and hope in others. These are the qualities that make a real leader, anywhere, any time.

How we do need such leaders to day! And the Bible speaks to us, in the story of Nehemiah, reminding us how real leaders are produced. Read the 122nd Psalm. Here is the secret of it all—"They shall prosper that love thee." Every difficulty confronting the home, the community, the nation, the world, can be met and mastered, provided we tackle it in the name of the Lord, relying upon his wisdom, his strength, his poise.

The Wayside Workers circle of King's Daughters will meet with Mrs. Robert Burch Thursday afternoon, May 6, with Mrs. Mary Meyers as assisting hostess.

Mrs. Robert E. Donnelly, the former Leona Brame of Plainfield, who lived in Homer during her early years, left last Monday for Japan, where she will join her husband, an infantry lieutenant. She will teach in an American high school in Tokyo.

The Mother's club of Ross school met Wednesday afternoon at the schoolhouse; the program was arranged by Mrs. Cora Holden of Joliet and Mrs. A. J. Ruge. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. William Bokoski and Mrs. L. Lloyd Reiter.

The trustees of Barnett cemetery met Friday evening, April 23, in the Wilbur Francis, Sr., home. On Saturday afternoon, May 1, at 2 o'clock in Homer church there will be a meeting for all members of the cemetery association.

Death of Horace Murray
Horace Murray, aged 67, a Homer resident for many years, died at his home in Lockport Sunday, April 18, after a long illness. He is survived by his wife, Catherine; one brother, David, of Lockport; three sisters, Mrs. Tena Krieger of Estherville, Iowa, Mrs. Lillian Galloway of Burlington, N. J., and Mrs. Georgia Wallace of Greeley, Colo. A fourth sister, Mrs. Lottie Godfrey of Texas, died a few years ago.

Funeral services were held from the Miller funeral home, Lockport, Wednesday at 9:00 a. m. to St. Dennis church at 9:30. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Joliet.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Anderson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ott and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carlson in their home Friday evening.

Mrs. Frank Krieger and her daughter, Mrs. Jessie Ramsay of Estherville, Iowa, who were called here by the death of Mr. Murray, called on Homer friends Tuesday afternoon.

The monthly Fellowship dinner will be held at Homer church Sunday, May 2.

A son, John Alan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Shepherd Friday night, April 23, in St. Joseph's hospital. He will be a playmate to Danny, the other child of the family, who celebrated his third birthday the same day, April 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Milne were Friday-evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Milne, celebrating Mrs. Frank Milne's birthday.

Woman's World

Alter Coats, Dresses, Add Boleros to Remain in Style

By Ertta Haley

IF YOU agree with Mark Twain that "A woman is always better dressed in fashion than out of it," then you'll gradually be remodeling your last season's clothes to this season's modes.

Fashion experts claim that it will take at least two years for the average woman to replace her present wardrobe with new clothes and the "new look." This means that re-making, remodeling and refurbishing will be the order of the day for some time to come.

Trot out the wardrobe problems in your closet to see how they can be handled. Imagination plus ingenuity with needles and thread will do wonders.

For instance, take the short-skirted, short-waisted problem. What better way to solve it than to cut the dress apart at the waist, insert a wide strip of another nicely matching or contrasting material and add a matching band at the hem? The wide midriff inset will delineate the tiny waist while the bottom band adds a graceful flare.

Use Inserted Bands To Add Length

Many of your crepe dresses can be made longer by bands in the skirt. The skirt, if a rather full type, can be cut apart and lengthened by adding faille or material of another type in strips for length. Another wide band may be placed at the hem.

There are several other remedies if your headache is hemline trouble. One consists of cutting two lengths of material from around the waist. This may be replaced with grosgrain ribbon and hidden with a gaily colored rayon sash of swathed cummerbund fashioned around the waist. Take two strips of material, seam them together and stitch these to the bottom of the dress.

The joining may be concealed by covering it with any one of a number of kinds of decorative tape, braid or soutache. Or you may just want to run rows of stitching around the dress, evenly spaced above and below the seam joining.

Another simple solution for skirt problems is to drop your skirt from two or three rows of grosgrain ribbon stitched together and sewed on top of the waistband. If you can steal a tab of material from underneath the pocket or down a pleat, stitch this over the grosgrain, right in middle of the front, and make the whole thing appear as a part of the original design.

Still another favorite trick is to drop the skirt from a yoke made of another material. This is easy to do if the problem is a suit or dress with a peplum (of course you always can add one or a long jacket which will cover the yoke).

Hemline troubles which are not too severe as to require lots of length can be solved by using a tape applied to the hem. When there isn't enough hem to let down, take a look at the waistband. It's likely to be made on the fold of the material. Clip the stitches that hold the inside to the skirt, open it and press flat. You can face this widened band with elasticized ribbing or wide hem tape.

Cotton Dresses Are Easy to Lengthen

If your closet holds many cottons, these are easy to remodel as far as lengthening goes. One of the favorite tricks is to use a four or five-inch band of plain material and add it to the bottom. For a charming effect, applique the print of the dress over the plain material. Then, using a zigzag attachment on your sewing machine, make several rows of stitching, following the irregularities in the print. Hem the material in the usual fashion.

When your closet skeleton is a plain cotton that shows your knees, take a tip from grandmother's day and use patchwork sewn around the hem.

A plain dress may be cut apart at two places across the skirt or at both skirt and bustline, then inserted with bands of eyelet. Repeat the touch of eyelet at the neckline and sleeves in a band.

Your remodeling will be simplicity itself if you have a thermoplastic dress "twin" to eliminate the guesswork in fitting. This dress form "double" of your own figure, which may be molded in about a half an hour, actually cuts dress construction time in half and proves a boon in all sewing and remodeling problems.

Remodel Your Navy Wool Dress

Navy is again a favorite color and you can greet the season with one that's remodeled from fall and winter. Why not consider cutting the dress in two, making the top a pert short bolero and the bottom a skirt. Lengthen in any of the ways already mentioned. Then use the new suit-dress accompanied by the crispest of white pique blouses.

When you've remodeled your dresses, turn your thoughts to the coat situation. Local sewing center experts say that you can make a three quarter "shortie" out of your last year's coat. But the real trick is to line the coat with the cheeriest print you can find. Then stitch a matching blouse for the gay ensemble. Isn't that an idea—and especially if the lining of the coat looks as though it wouldn't last another season.

Wide Range Gives Women Chance to Be 'Well-Suited'

As definitely a sign of the new season as the first brave robin or April's traditional showers is the parade of suits which invariably marks the advent of spring. There's something particularly crisp and tempting in a spring suit. No matter what the color, silhouette, width of skirt or length of jacket, a suit spells spring.

Black and navy blue are the smartest and most practical colors, with brown and soft neutrals like gray and deep beige ranking as most popular second choices.

Typical spring suit shades lead off with the pastels in shades of gray, honey beige, leaf green, palest cocoa brown, a few orange tones, light blues and some apple blossom pinks. The last color usually is cunningly combined with navy blue, jacket of the pink and skirt of navy blue.

Spring navy blue, as always, is a color parade alone.

Be Smart!

Let your new-season bolero take its turn at contributing color contrasts to your costume. Sketched here is a solid black cutaway bolero with a white checked skirt—a patent leather belt as a go-between. Patent leather belts, incidentally, are tops in new accessory ideas.

Teamwork of Soil Management and Fertilizer Gives Top Crop Production, Builds Up Land

Poor Soil Structure Limited Root Growth and Caused Lodging of This Corn Crop.

CHICAGO—Good soil management practices must go hand in hand with heavy use of fertilizer if farmers are to get the most bushels possible from every pound of plant food used, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in a statement.

"It is one thing to put fertilizer in the ground," says the statement. "It is another to be sure the plant roots can reach the fertilizer to feed the growing crop."

"Fertilizers should be teamed up with practices that build soil structure or tilth. With good tilth roots can spread out for plant nutrients and moisture to feed the above-ground growth of crops. Vital, too, are conservation measures that will prevent erosion and keep your soil in place after it is built up.

"You can protect your soil from losses by water runoff by contour plowing, seeding and cultivation. Rainfall will then have more chance to soak into the ground."

"By using deep-rooted legumes and grasses regularly in the rotation, using fertilizer carrying phosphate and potash, returning manure and plowing back all the corn stalks, straw and crop aftermath, you can increase the organic matter content and improve the soil's structure."

CLOVER BOOSTS CORN YIELDS

Corn fields following clover were easily spotted during the drought last year, according to C. M. Linsley, soils extension specialist, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Corn following clover stayed green and continued to grow during the dry summer. But corn on land that had not had clover "fired" badly because of lack of nitrogen and moisture.

The payoff for clover is the rotation was often an extra yield of 20 to 35 bushels an acre. More clovers and alfalfa are to be seeded this year, partly as a result of last year's experience. The government is asking for a 51 per cent increase in the seeding of legumes.

Mr. Linsley told of two fields on adjoining farms in eastcentral Illinois that had been used to produce hybrid seed corn. The one field with clover in the rotation produced a yield of 75 bushels of corn an acre, while the field without clover produced 40 bushels, a difference of 35 bushels an acre. In other words, clover in the rotation increased the yield 87.5 per cent.

The soil in the field that had been in clover the year before was loose and mellow. It allowed excess water to pass down the tile lines. That soil was able to soak up and hold more water for the corn crop to use during the dry period. The clover also supplied plenty of nitrogen. The corn in this field stayed green and continued to grow during the drought.

Lack of plant food, and especially lack of nitrogen and organic matter, and poor soil tilth caused the other field to produce such a low yield. The field had had no clover to supply nitrogen and organic matter or to bring about soil tilth or mellowness. Because of poor tilth, the soil packed and ran together, and drainage was slowed up.

There were wet spots in the field in the spring because excess water could not get through the soil to the tile lines. The soil could not take up and hold a good supply of moisture to take care of the needs of the corn crop during the dry season. Because of poor tilth and the lack of nitrogen, the corn "fired" badly.

"Growing a heavy crop of clover regularly in the rotation, in addition to supplying fertilizer, is a practical kind of drought insurance," Linsley concludes.

The payment of a poll tax is a prerequisite to voting in the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

HOW TO FREEZE FRESH RHUBARB

One of the first vegetables to come up in the spring is rhubarb. And it's those young, tender stalks that are perfect for freezing. Miss Grace Armstrong, foods specialist, University of Illinois college of agriculture, warns that it's important to select top-quality rhubarb and to prepare it for freezing as soon as it's picked.

Wash the rhubarb thoroughly in cold clean water. Do not peel for the color and flavor lie very close to the surface, and peeling reduces both. Cut the rhubarb into about 3-4 inch pieces.

The next step is blanching—an important step to retain the greatest possible amounts of color, flavor, texture and nutritive value. To blanch, weigh one pound of rhubarb into a wire basket or sieve. Lower the basket into a kettle with 2 1/2 quarts of boiling water. Cover the kettle and keep the heat turned on while the rhubarb is blanched for 1 1/2 minutes. Count the time from the moment the rhubarb is put into the water.

At end of 1 1/2 minutes remove the basket and plunge it into a large container of cold water. For quick cooling, it's best to do this under a running cold water faucet. When running water is not available, use ice water or several kettles of cold water.

After cooling, drain the rhubarb thoroughly and pack at once. Seal the container and, if possible, put it into the freezer or locker immediately. If you can't make the trip to the locker right away, the containers can be left in the refrigerator for a short time. They must not be left, however, longer than three or four hours. The temperature of the refrigerator should be between 38 and 45 degrees F.

CARD OF THANKS

Mere words cannot convey our deep and sincere appreciation to our relatives, many friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy during the bereavement of our dear son and brother, Robert Schuldt. We especially thank those who donated their blood, also Rev. Frank J. Anderson for his comforting words, the soloist, Arthur Lambrecht, and the organist. Also for the beautiful floral tributes and to those who donated the use of their cars.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE W. SCHULDT and FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Godwin and daughter June were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Steinhagen last Sunday.

Mesdames Edith Arnold, Mathilda Steinhagen, Lulu Anfield; Golda Strassenburg and Ann Wagner, members of the VFW Auxiliary, made their regular trip to the Hines Memorial hospital Maywood, last week to make bandages.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Andres and sons Gail and Charles of Blue Island were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Willman. The Andres family formerly lived in Tinley.

A personal shower was held in honor of Miss Mildred Kampe and Herbert Niefeldt last Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Luella Yunker in Mokena. Miss Kampe and Mr. Niefeldt, who will be married Sunday, received many gifts. Cohostess was Mrs. Helen Niemeyer of Orland Park.

'Crocodile Tears', Says Envoy Of British 'Worry' on Sudan

Washington, D. C.

What was ostensibly set up as a "joint" administration of the Egyptians and the British for the rule of the Sudan provinces in the Nile Valley has turned out to be something far different. This is the belief of the Egyptian ambassador to the United States, Mahmoud Hassan Pasha.

"Instead of being a 'joint' administration, it has proved to be an administration 'out of joint,'" he declared in a recent radio address over Station WOOK.

He pointed out that the Sudan administration was to be under the fifty-fifty control of Egypt and Britain. All civil and military powers were to be vested in the Governor General, and he was to be appointed by the Khedive of Egypt on the nomination of the British government. To date, every Governor General has been a Britisher.

In the beginning, Egyptians played some part in the administration, and some Egyptian forces were stationed in the Sudan. Yet it soon became clear that the British were attempting to oust all Egyptian influence. Gradually for a time, yet progressively, the Egyptians were squeezed out. They were purged because they were Egyptians.

Since 1924, Egyptian participation in the Sudan administration has been even less than nominal. It has been all but non-existent.

Thus fared the "joint" administration! Thus have the Egyptians been forced to view from the side-lines the entrenchment of an alien government in a part of their national territory!

"Egypt's claim to the maintenance of the time-honored unity of the Nile Valley has been depicted by the British as an attempt by the Egyptian to impose her rule upon an unwilling people who crave their own independence," said Ambassador Hassan.

"Such allegations are false," he continued. "In fact, what Britain wants by advocating so-called freedom for the Sudan from Egypt is nothing else than domination of the Sudan by herself alone."

"No crocodile in the deepest waters of the Nile ever shed such tears as Britain now pretends to shed for the Sudan."

"As a consequence of British domination, the social and cultural advancement of the population of the Sudan has been greatly retarded," a spokesman points out. "No attempt has been made to train the Sudanese for more than menial tasks, and when Sudanese come to Egypt to be educated—as many of them do—they can hope for no posts in the government service on their return to the Sudan. The economic interests of the Sudanese have been similarly disregarded, to supply cheap cotton for Lancashire."

"Of course the British hold out the bait of independence to the Sudan—that is, ultimate independence. How ultimate is for the British to decide! And as elsewhere in their flar-flung Empire, the people are never 'ready' for independence."

"Yet the British do not fail to keep an anchor to windward. Foreseeing that they may be unable to stave off the reunion of the Northern Sudan with Egypt, they seek to mark out the Southern Sudan as a territory apart. It would fit in so well with British territories beyond!"

"Hence every effort is being made to divide the Sudanese. Minorities are favored and encouraged. Separatism, as a part of the British strategy, supplies ever fresh excuses for the British to dig themselves in."

It is estimated that continental United States will use about 7,800,000 short tons of sugar during the calendar year 1948.

CAN'T ANSWER QUESTIONS ON TAX REFUNDS

Collector of Internal Revenue John T. Jarecki urged all taxpayers who are expecting to receive refund checks for overpayments of their 1947 income taxes not to make inquiries of his office at this time.

Approximately 700,000 refund checks for 1947 taxes that were overpaid have already been issued, he stated, and one million more checks will be sent out within the next few months.

Most of the refund checks for 1947 overpayments will be issued and in the hands of the taxpayers by the end of July, the announcement stated.

Because complete records will not be available for research until September 15, taxpayers are urged not to make inquiry until after that date.

Electricity Eases Farmstead Chores

EXTENSION of electricity to farms has made a new production tool available to agriculture, according to nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer. Electricity offers ways to mechanize many farmstead chores, reduce human labor, lower operating costs and promote better income, which adds up to more satisfactory living.

Since most of the appliances required for modern conveniences are operated by electricity, its employment in production makes it a dual-purpose tool, in which one use facilitates another, points out the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families.

Typical of electricity at work is the task performed by a small circular saw in cutting material for the poultry house on George Middleton's farm in Kane County, Illinois.

One of the recent developments in labor-saving appliances is the churning attachment which Mrs. Henry Sidentop, of Livingston County, Ill., uses on her washing machine. Ice cubes made in her refrigerator go into the clothes tub to cool summertime cream, which reduces churning time by one-fourth.

An important function of rural electricity is to supply life-protecting heat for young pigs. Carl Barton exhibits one of the 7 brooders he built as a vocational agriculture project in Livingston County, Ill.

Soapless Soaps Ease Household Chores

AN INCREASING number of farm women are using soapless soaps or wetting agents to help them in a variety of household tasks, an article in nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer points out.

These wetting agents usually come in very granular form and are proving superior to ordinary soaps because they actually do double duty—soften water and cleanse—the magazine declares. Formulation of scum by soap in hard water is a characteristic common to all soaps, but not to wetting agents. The substance in these synthetic detergents combines minerals in hard water to make salts dissolve, instead of making the curd-like substance or scum which is an insoluble salt, the article explains.

Giving better contact between the washing solution and surface to be cleaned, these wetting agents get a material or surface wetter and do it quickly. Near neutral in reaction, instead of alkaline, the wetting agents are most effective for cleansing milk utensils and separators.

Added window brightness obtained with wetting agents.

Soapless soaps cut separator cleaning time.

Among numerous uses in which these wetting agents are being employed, says the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families, are: dishwashing, fabric-washing, including woollens, blankets and sweaters, window-washing, family car washing, washing fabrics on furniture, washing milk buckets and separators.

Home Water Treatment

A phosphate compound, Micromet, and a feeder to add the compound in right amounts to water will prevent scale and control corrosion in a household water system, writes the Rural Home editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer. It also helps prevent "rusty water" caused by iron. The feeder device is installed in a vertical position on cold water intake line of water heater. After the initial charge of one pound of Micromet, only one fourth pound needs to be poured into feeder each month, says the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families.

GREEDY PIGS MAY BE ILL WITH WORMS

Farmers with young pigs that "eat their heads off" without growing should have them checked for worms, says Dr. M. E. Mansfield, extension specialist, University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine.

Pigs farrowed and kept in insanitary hog lots sometimes pick up internal parasites when they are only a few days old, Dr. Mansfield states. At this age infection with only a few worms often causes unthriftiness.

Many times young pigs may become infected with worms before the farmer realizes they are unhealthy. By that time they are so seriously affected that they may never fully recover. Such pigs seldom make a profit.

Dr. Mansfield says there are two ways to fight parasites of swine. Drugs may be given to expel the parasites from the pigs, or the farmer can outwit these enemies to pig health by raising his animals under sanitary conditions. Drugs are not always effective, because the medicine may not reach the worms. Sometimes the drugs cannot kill the parasites until these enemies are fully grown—and by that time the pig's health may be undermined.

When pigs are raised on clean pastures, they stand a good chance of escaping infection. Good results are reported when the McLean county system of swine sanitation is carefully used. It should be remembered that clean pastures grow clean pigs. Permanent lots and pastures are hotbeds for parasite infections.

It costs more to keep weeds than to kill them!

Curry Powder Spices Up Low-Cost Meat

Curry powder can turn a low-cost piece of meat into something special, says Miss Frances Cook, food specialist, University of Illinois college of agriculture. Long, slow cooking will make the meat tender, but it's the curry powder that gives it that extra flavor.

Here's a recipe for curried beef neck, an economical and tasty dish:

Curried Beef Neck

2 to 3 lb. beef neck
1 1/4 cup flour
1 1/4 tsp. curry powder
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cup fat
2 T. minced onion
2 T. minced green pepper
1 to 2 cups water

Cut beef into pieces for individual servings. Combine flour, curry powder and salt, and dredge meat. Brown in fat to which onion and green pepper have been added. Add water, cover tightly and simmer on top of stove or in slow oven (325 deg. F) till tender—about 2 hours. Remove meat, thicken liquid, and serve with the meat.

The proportion of curry powder listed in the recipe is keyed to average tastes. It should be varied to suit family tastes. Guard against overseasoning, however, as too much spice tends to mask the flavor of the meat.

Veterinary College At Univ. of Ill.

The University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine will be activated this fall with the acceptance of a small freshman class, Dr. Robert Graham, dean of the college has announced. Pre-veterinary students were accepted at the university in 1945.

By Jeff Hayes

Until funds are available for construction of permanent buildings to house the college, a former student residence structure will be used for offices and laboratories to accommodate the freshman group. The former veterinary pathology laboratory also is being remodeled for teaching purposes. Only small classes can be accepted until the new buildings are completed, Dean Graham said, because the training of veterinarians requires classroom laboratory, and hospital units.

The college of veterinary medicine was established by the University of Illinois board of trustees in June, 1944, and building funds were appropriated by the state legislature in 1945 after curriculum and building needs had been determined by a special committee.

Shortages of building materials and labor made construction impossible at that time. Further delays have resulted from increased construction costs and the fact that the original appropriation is now insufficient to complete the college's building project.

Connecticut is pre-eminently a manufacturing state.

ORDINANCE NO. —
AN ORDINANCE DEFINING AND LICENSING PUBLIC PASSENGER VEHICLES AND TAXICABS IN THE VILLAGE OF TINLEY PARK, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS

BE IT ORDAINED by the President and the Board of Trustees of the Village of Tinley Park, Cook County, Illinois:

Section 1: Definitions: That whenever used in this ordinance, unless otherwise expressly indicated, the following definitions shall apply:

a. Public Passenger Vehicle—Taxicabs and all other motor vehicles engaged in the transportation of the public.

b. Taxicab—Any public passenger vehicle equipped with a taximeter and licensed as a taxicab.

c. Taximeter—Any mechanical device which records and indicates a charge or fare measured by distance traveled, waiting time and extra passengers.

Section 2: License Required. It shall be unlawful for the owner of a public passenger vehicle to operate the same, or permit the same to be operated, or for any person to drive a public passenger vehicle on the public ways of the Village of Tinley Park unless such public passenger vehicle is licensed as hereinafter provided.

Section 3: Jurisdiction: The licensing and inspection of public passenger vehicles shall be under the control of the Board of Trustees and the President of said Board of the Village of Tinley Park.

Section 4: Requirements for License: No vehicle shall be licensed unless and until it first shall comply with all the laws and provisions thereof of the State of Illinois relating to public passenger vehicles, safety inspections, license plates and public indemnity insurance.

Section 5: Restriction as to Number of Licenses: No public passenger vehicle or taxicab licenses shall be issued unless and until the Board of Trustees shall authorize, after determining the public convenience and necessity, by resolution at a regular meeting of said Board of Trustees the issuance of said public passenger vehicle or taxicab license or licenses in such number as it deems necessary to provide for said public convenience and necessity.

Section 6: Inspection Required: No public passenger vehicle shall be licensed until it has been inspected under the direction of the Village Board and found to be in safe condition for the transportation of passengers, clean, or good appearance and well painted.

Section 7: Fees for Licensing Vehicles: The following annual license fees shall be paid for public passenger vehicles: For each taxicab $10.00 For each public passenger vehicle other than a taxicab $10.00

Section 7: Public Vehicle Drivers: It shall be unlawful for any person to drive a public passenger vehicle on the public ways of said Village without first having complied with the laws of the State of Illinois relating to operator and chauffeurs licenses.

Section 8: Suspension and Revocation of Licenses: Licenses granted under the provisions of this ordinance may be revoked or suspended at any time by the Village Board upon the violation of any provision of this ordinance or upon the violation of any provision of the laws of the State of Illinois relating to public passenger vehicles, safety inspections, license plates, public indemnity insurance, driver and chauffeur licenses, and such other ordinances of the Village of Tinley Park relating to the operation of motor vehicles on the public ways of said Village.

Section 9: License Periods: License fees to be paid hereunder shall be in payment for an annual period determined by the provisions of an ordinance commonly known as the "Business License Ordinance of the Village of Tinley Park."

Section 10: Rates of Fares: No person, firm or corporation owning, operating or controlling any motor vehicle for hire within the limits of the Village of Tinley Park shall charge to exceed rates to be filed with the Board of Trustees of said Village and approved by it. No change in scheduled rates as approved by the Board of Trustees shall be permitted unless such change in fares shall be duly approved by said Board.

Section 11: Violations. Penalties: The operation of a public passenger vehicle in violation of the provisions hereof or the operation of such vehicle in the event of a revocation or suspension of license shall, upon conviction, subject the operator thereof to a penalty of not less than Five Dollars nor more than One Hundred Dollars, and each day that such violation shall continue shall be deemed a separate and distinct offense.

Section 12: Repeal and Enactment: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect upon its passage, approval and publication in such case by the Statute made and provided, and all ordinances or parts of ordinances which may be in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are to the extent of such conflict repealed and declared void.

PASSED AND APPROVED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Tinley Park, County of Cook and State of Illinois, this 19th day of April A. D. 1948.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles—which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues... whether a man should drink beer or cider... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.
